VICTIMS OF FIRE. Third Annual Meeting, of the National

Over One Hundred and Forty Reople Burned to Death.

MANY OTHERS WOUNDED.

THE AWFUL SCENES OF DEATH IN AN ENGLISH THEATER.

A Fire Breaks Out in the Theater Royal at Exeter, England, During a Performance, and the Play House was Soon Turned into a Funeral Pyre.

London, Sept. 7. - The new Theater Royal, at Exeter, Devon, hnrned last night during the production of "Romany Rye." Near the end of the third act fire shot out from the flies and the rush began. The actors and employes ran out of the stage entrance and escaped, while the audience orowded and jammed towards the regular exit. Those escaped, although many were crushed at the doors, which as usual were locked and had to be forced from their hinges.

The theater was soon a mass of flames, water having but little effect on lt. In the gallery and balcony a fearful panic ensued, and some jumped from the windows. It was impossible to check them.

When an entrance from the outside had been effected the sight on the gallery stairs was fearful. Masses of burned oorpses lay here and there, and 130 bodies were taken out. Many of the injured died soon after, and men and women were running about the streets hunting their iost ones all night. The remains for the most part were so badly burned that identification was impossible. The clothes were burned off and the flesh literally rousted.

A stall occupant thus describes the scene: The scene following the discovery of the fire was awful. Men implored the audience to be cool and tried to check the frantic rush, but to iittle purpose. Women were fainting and wringing their hands. Some husbands carried out their wives and children screaming, everybody rushing to the nearest exit. Short as was the time, those who escaped into the corridor leading into the vestibule found it filled with dense smoke, and escaped in a half suffocated condition. In a few minutes the hose, always kept in readiness, was pumping water on the stage from the dress circle, but this had no effect. Within five minutes of the outbreak the city fire brigade were on the spot, hut the water

There are 106 bodies lying in the London Inn square awaiting identification. They are all frightfully hurned, chiefly about the head and hands. The majority of them are men and boys, although thirty women were counted on the stretchers as they passed, who were apparently for the most part occupants of the gallery. A heap of bodies still remained in the higher gailery staircase on the first (10231 steps before the fire destroyed that part of the huilding.

Unfortunately, as was the case with the Paris theater, the escape doors in one street were fastened. The people behind them yelied madly and threw their whole weight against the doors until they were wrenched off their hinges. The bodies present a sickening aspect. Upon going a little higher up the stairs more bodies were discovered, These were laid in rows in an adjoining room for identification, and those who showed signs of life were conveyed on stretchers to the hospital. All the medical men in the city were on the soot, rendering what assistance they could. The sheriff states that he has counted 130 dead bodies. The scenes in the streets and where the bodles are lying is pitiful. Women are looking for missing husbands, and husbands for wives and daughters, and mothers for

The victims were mostly working people who had occupied seats in the fatal gailery. In many cases fathers and mothers both perished, and the number made orphans by the terrible holocaust his exceptionally large. Several bodies have been burned to nothing but a smali cluder, making identification impossible. Sixty of those who were taken to the hospital are seriously injured, and many of them will probably dle. A number of them give no sign of recovery. The number of deaths is mounting, upwards, and it is feared now that it will reach 140 at the lowest estimate.

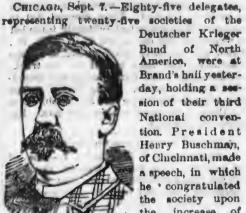

A telegram from Exeter at 5 o'clook this morning says that the fire is under control. Only the walls of the structure are standing. People distracted with anxiety are wandering about the streets in the neighborhood of the theater in search of missing friends. The hospitals are beseiged by anxious inquiries for friends. Twenty badly burned persons, who were admitted to hospitals, died a few moments after they were re-

He sald the leading Germans of the country were interested in the success of the society, because it did so much to keep alive the comradeship of the ex-soldlers, and was to the German-Americans what the milltary society of the Fatherland is to Germans. He exhorted the delegates to teach the members of their societies to be good citizens and obey the laws of their new country, as they were obedient and hrave soldiers in their old country. Consul Nordenflecht talked hriefly, and bid them keep their honor clean. The secretary reported a membership of who had occupied seats on the lower floor 2,900. The treasurer said there was $263 cash haiance on haud. At the preceding convention it was proposed to huild a home in Cluchnati tor worthy and disabled soldlers. It was agreed yesterday that the project should be deferred until the society become stronger. In the afternoon an elaborate banquet was served at the hail, and then everybody went out to Sharpshooters' park, and the Chlcago Verein presented a allken banner to the National society with appropriate exercises.

SUFFERING OF SAILORS.

A CONTINUOUS CHAIN OF DISASTERS ON THE OCEAN.

Frightful Sufferings of the Crew of the Star of Scotia on Falkland Islands-List of the Rescued from the American Ship Triumphant-Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 7 .- Every vessel that arrives from New York brings news of unusual gales and extremely bad weather. Owing to a gale and high seas prevailing along the Irish coast the Inman steamer, City of Richmond, which arrived off Queenstown from New York yesterday, was compelled to enter the inner harbor in order to transfer to a tender such passengers as wished to disembark. The Lord Clive, from Philadeiphia, also had to seek shelter.

One of the crew of the Beifast bark Star of Scotia has arrived at Liverpool, and has given some thrilling details of the wreck of that vessel on the Falkland Island and the loss of eight lives. Of the men drowned one was the mate of the vessel, and out of the others the bodies of two were found on the beach with nearly all the flesh eaten off by wlid and voracious birds.

According to the account of the seaman who has just arrived at Liverpool, and his name is Martin Olsm, it appears that the Star of Scotia was bound from San Francisco to Queenshoro, and had on board a cargo of wheat. She was manned by a crew of twenty-two, and got ashore on the rocks at Bull Point, about a hundred inlies from Port Stanley, Falkland Islands. It was about 11:30 at night when the vessel struck, and the crew remained on board until daylight. Heavy surf was breaking on the island. The captain with a majority of the crew got away in one boat, and the second was in charge of Frazier, the mate. The captain told the men not to bring their effects, but to save their lives and then go off to the ship again for their clothes. The captain's boat was the first to reach shore, but the mate's boat was cast on the beach by the heavy surf, and in it were the unconscious forms of Davis and Drummoud, seamen, and the body of the mate, who had just hreathed his. last. Davis and Drummond recovered and gave an account of their sufferiugs during the short time that had elapsed since they abandoned their vessei. While making their way to shere the boat was capsized and all the occupants were thrown into the water. Some of the men managed to cling to the upturned craft which afterwards righted. Some of the poor fellows never reached her again but were drowned. While making once more for shore she was again capsized, and this happened uo iess than seven times untii there were enjy three ieft, viz: The mate, Drummond and Davis. Some of the men had clung to the capsized boat, hut their strength had failed them, and becoming exhausted they had to loose their hold and perish. To add to the men's suffering it was intensely cold, and it was only owing to their robust constitutions that Davis and Drummend were saved. They saw their comrades drowning but couldn't afford them the slightest ald. When the shipwrecked men landed the island was covered with snow and the air was bitterly cold. They, however, found sheiter in the hut of some herdsmen and were kindly treated. The herdsmen also rode 100 miles to luform the authorities of tha disaster.

The State Line steamer State of Indiana, which arrived at Glasgow from New York, landed Capt. Lawrence and crew, of the American ship Triumphant, of Boston, whom they picked up on Sunday, August 28, in latitude 42 degrees, 48 minutes north, iongitude 54 degrees, 35 mlnutes west. The Triumphant, which was a ship of 2,046 tons, was bound from Liverpool and met a hurricane Her pumps became useless through being choked with sait, and when the State of Indiana hove in sight she was iying to with a heavy list and making water rapidly. Signals of distress having been hoisted, the master of the State of Indiana sent off a boat in charge of J. Campbell, chief officer, and at the request of Capt. Lawrence the crew and part of their elfects were taken

The names of the rescued are Capt. Reuben S. Lawrence, wife and child; Charles 11 o'clock. Chairman Francy presented e Doggan, chief officer; John Nicholson, second officer; John Johnstone, carpenter; Samson, the steward, and the following seamen: Frank Woodrow, Jacob Baker, John Garritt, James Morton, John Wilson, William Chambers, Edward McGihbin, Edward Morris, Charles Francis, Charles Mitchell, Harry Hide, Peter Smith, Willam O'Connor, Patrick MoDonald, John Itz, George Myers, William Gillegam, Frank James, Wiliam Myers, John Classeu and Charies Boag.

HEAVY ASSIGNMENT.

Two Million Dollar Faiture at New Haven,

Connecticut. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 7.-The failure of F. S. Wheeler & Co., of this city, heavy importers of bar irou, steel, tin, etc., with branch houses in New York, Liverpool, Baltimore and Chicago, and the New Haven Wire company, of which F. S. Wheeler is president, was announced yesterday afternoon, and created a decided sensation in husiness circles. in making the announcement of the fallure, F. S. Wheeler, the head of the concern, sald: "Owing to our failure to receive expected remittances and our inability to obtain discount accommodations in consequence of the extreme tightness of money we felt compelled to stop payment. The ilahilities of the house are chiefly on the indorsements of bills receivable, the unsecured indebtedness being very light. It is hoped that the business may be successfully resumed in a short time. The stoppage will probably affect the New Haven Wire oompany, which is entirely under our control. but will in no way affect the New Haven rolling mill, which is controlled by a separate corporation, not in any way invoived." The members of the firm decline to make any additional statements. A prominent banker who is pretty well posted as to the firm's standing puts the amount of the failure in the ueighborhood of $2,000,000. Others are uot inclined to estimate quite so heavy. All agree that it will be very farreaching, and will involve a large number of banks and business houses here and elsewhere, The New Haven Wire company has a capital of $150,000, and employs 300 hands, turning out fifty tons of wire daily. All of the iocal banks are said to have discounted Wheeler & Co.'s paper quite heavily, as have also a number of New York banks, Dry Goods Failure at Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, Sept. 7 .- The elegant uew Beehive dry goods store at 100 West Fifth street went into a receiver's hands this morning, the proprietors, Henry Blackwell and John F. Horman, having some troublesome debts that they could not carry. As they did hot care to make an assignment, Judge Jackson A. Jordan went before Judge Peck, of the superior court, and asked for the appointment of Herman H. Beoker as receiver. The appointment was duly made, and Mr. Becker at once took possession of the Beehive. There he was found soon afterward and asked fer a statement of the assignors' assets and itabilities, but declined to give any information.

The assets are believed to be about $30, -000 and the liabilities $50,000. The Beehlve was burned out about two years ago, the loss being $14,000, against $9,800 insurance. The proprietors removed to temporary quarters near by while a fine new edifice was being erected for their use. Recently they moved into it and placed an attractive stock on sale. To do it they strained their eredit considerably. Trade has been dull, and this trouble, combined with their previous ill luck, carried the concern under.

Chow Lam's Vietlm Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 .- Officer Phillp L. Robinson died iate last night from the effects of the bullet wound inflicted on him by Chow Iam, a Chinese laundryman, on the night of August 31. A JOB FOR JUDGE LYNCH.

and Robbed. CATTLETTSAURG, Ky., Sept. 7.—The vicinity of Ceredo, W. Va., is all stirred up over a dastardiy attempt to murder A. E. Bush, aged eighty-two, and his wife, aged seventy-eight. At 5 o'elock this morning two men, bent on robbery, either negroes or white men blacked, were discovered to be in the house, and shot Dr. Bush in the forehead and Mrs. Bush in the body, inflicting probably mortal wounds. A twelve-yearold grandson was in the house, and in his flight was shot at several times.

He gave the alarm and hundreds of citizens are scouring the surrounding country after the perpetrators, who, if caught will be speedily lynched. They secured $40 in money. The parties had evidently intended to wreck the pay car on the N. N. & N. W. which was due early this morning, as a huge obstruction had been placed on the track, but a freight train came along and demolished the obstruction. Being fooied in this they went to the house of Mr. Bush. It is not thought the aged couple can live. Excitement rune high.

A Sheriff Shoots Four Cattle Thievas. ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 7 .- One of the most complete single handed shooting scrapes that ever occurred in this section, transpired yesterday noon at Holbrook, A. T. Four desperadoes rode into that town yesterday morning from Tonto Basin, named Tom Blivens, Jake Cooper, Charles Roberts and Jim Blivens, all notorious cattle thieves. Sheriff Owens, having warrants for their arrest, ran upon his men in a little shanty adjoining the livery stable of Brown & Kinders. He demanded their surrender, which was answered by a volley of shots, but as the men emerged from the shanty Sheriff Owens shot them down one by one, killing all instantly except young Blivens, a brother of one of the meu killed. For months these men have caused a reign of terror in the Territory of Ari-

Lived Six Years in a Second Century. CINCINNATI, Sept. 7—The remains of Lawrence Malloy, 106, laborer, of Sabina, O., were brought to this city to-day for burial. Malloy was born in Ireland, where he married and resided until 1849. At the age of sixty-eight he came to Cincinnati, his wife dying here six weeks afterward of cholera. He lived in this city until twenty years ago, when he went to Sabina to reside with a married daughter. The funeral took place at 1:30 p. m. from the residence of a son-in-law, James Egan, at 162 Eastern avenue. The deceased had ten children, five of whom survive. Skirmish Between Italians and Irish. WILKESHARRE, Pa., Sept. 7 .- There was a bloody allray at Hazelton Sunday between Irish and Italians. It grew out of a fight between two men, and finally involved nearly the whole population. Clubs, razors, and knives were used. The Italians were finally routed. About twenty-five men were quite badly hurt, but John Cannon, the man who first started the row, is the only one likely to die.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK.

WHAT THE MEDICINE MEN IN WASH-INGTON ARE DOING.

Eighteen Different Halls Filled with Delegates to the Iternational Medical Congress-Who the Presiding Officers are. Other Washington Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.-The International Medical convention has got fairly to work. Within an hour after the adjournment of the opening general session, at Albaugh's theater, hundreds of the delegates had dispersed, and were listening to learned disquisitions and elaborate dissertations on human anatomy, the physiological functions of special organs, disease and other kindred topics, in the eighteen different halls and meeting rooms assigned to the eighteen different sections into which the congress is divided.

The section which looks after the Interest of general medicine is presided over by Dr. A. B. Arnold, of Baltimore. The list of those who submit papers in this section comprises many of the most distinguished medical practitioners of the world. Dr. William T. Briggs, a surgeon of Nashville, Tenn., is president of the section of general surgery. Dr. John H. Callendar, of Nashville, a well known physician, presides over the section of physiology, the meetings of which promise to be of unusual interest, as papers are announced from a number of distinguished physiologists of England, Canada and the United States.

A section whose proceedings promise to have more popular interest than most of the others is that devoted to public and international hygiene, over which Dr. Joseph Jones, of New Orleans, presides. One section is given over to the consideration of diseases of children, and over this Dr. J. Lewis Smith, of New York city, presides.

The exhibition of medical and surgical supplies is in the Washington Light Infantry armory. The armory is apparently turned into a huge drug store, and presents a strange appearance. The exhibit is a curlous and interesting display of drugs, surgical instruments, and all the appliances used in attacking diseases, relieving pain and performing surgical operations.

Patent Office Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The commissioner of patents, Benton J. Hall, has sent to the secretary of the interior a synopsis of his forthcoming annual report, in which he states that the number of applications for patents of all kinds received during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, was 40,678, and during last year 38,409. He states that agreed on a sliding wage scale equalizing the condition of the business of the office will compare favorably with that of any previous year, and that the office may be said to be fairly up with its current work, He emphasizes the necessity for additional

He states that the death of Levi Bacon, the financial cierk of the bureau, which occurred June 23 last, nocessitated a settlement of his accounts, and an investigation disclosed the fact that there existed a shortage of $31,091.61. There was found due bilis, miscellaneous memoranda, etc., where Mr. Bacon had advanced and loaned the public money amounting to $13,011.01, leaving net eash unaccounted for $16,080.60. Of the iatter the sum of $11,525.60, is public money belonging to the revenues of this office. The remainder, $4,555, belongs to the attorney's fund, made up of deposits with the near this city which is causing much interfinancial clerk from time to time by attornevs to meet the charges and fees they are required to pay in their business transactions with the office. The commissioner states that the present deficiency is $32,-422.31 as the sum of $8,665.80 has since been collected of the due biils, etc.

The commissioner is of the opinion that something more yet will be collected upon these due bills, etc., but no estimate can be made of the amount. The report shows that the number of patents granted during the year, including reissues and designs, was 21,732; number of trade marks registered, 1,101, and number of labels registered, 384, The number of patents expired was 12,782. The receipts from all sources was $1.159,-046.55, and the expenditures, including printing and binding and contingent expenses, was $981,644.02, leaving a surplus of $168,40 i.96. The balance now in the United States treasury on account of the patent fund amounts to $3,168,401.96.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The president to-day appointed Samuel T. Williams, of Maryland, secretary of the United States legation at Bruzil. Commissions have been issued by the president to the following naval officers: Daniel H. Braine, rear admiral; George Brown, commodore; Henry B. Robeson, captain; Benjamin F. Tilley, lieutenant commander, and Benjamin S. Richards, lleutenant commander.

FATE OF THE ANARCHISTS.

The Important Question About to Be Solved at Ottawa, Ill.

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 7.—"What will be the fate of the Anarchists?" This is the one absorbing question that is on the tongue of almost every individual in Ottawa to-day. The autumn term of the supreme court was formally opened here to-day. Several hnndreds of the friends of the convicted men and lawyers came in on the morning trains from Chicago and other parts of the state. Just when the decision will be rendered is a question, concerning which considerable mystery prevalis.

It may come to-morrow and maybe not until the last day of the term several weeks hence. Report has it that the document has not yet been read to the conference of judges, and that there is no prospect that it will be filed until the middle of noxt week, and the dignety which surrounds the angust occupants of the bench is so profound, and their ideas as to what may constitute contempt of court so broad and comprehensive, that not even the most enterprising of the score or more of newspaper correspondents who are on the ground is willing to take the risk of putting a point blank question. It is a subject of remark that almost, without exception, everyone here, both visitors and residents, are of the opinion that the decision will be against the condemued men. If the decision of the lower court in these cases is affirmed, the law compels the court to deliver an oral as well as a written opinion, and also to fix the day of execution of the prisoners. In this event the opinion will probably be very brief. If, on the other hand, the decision of Judge Gary's court is reversed, the opinion will be voluminous. The clerk of the court does not look for an announcement in these cases until the secand or third week of the term,
